

Green Elephant at Halton Mill commits to The Coworking
Manifesto – from <http://www.coworkingproject.com/manifesto/> (translated from the original Italian)

Coworking is just a word – only real people give it meaning

We make work a better experience through space/knowledge sharing, every day

Coworkers are not customers. Coworkers are professionals working with you.

We are part of a larger community, both physical and online, and we speak to each other

In our model, relationships come first, profit comes second

Our professional skills are constantly enriched by community

We don't believe in competition. This makes us highly competitive!

Coworking enjoys the best marketing strategy – happiness.

Coworking is always the beginning of something “Coworking is a labour of love”. (Tara Hunt, cofounder Citizen Space, San Francisco).
